Understanding the Health Benefits of Drinking Alkaline Water

Great tasting, clean & healthy water for just $1.10 per day!

What is Alkalinity in Water?

Alkalinity is the buffering capacity of a water body. It measures the ability of water bodies to neutralize acids and bases thereby maintaining a fairly stable pH. Water that is a good buffer contains compounds, such as bicarbonates, carbonates and hydroxides, which combine with H+ ions from the water, thereby raising the pH (more basic) of the water. Without this buffering capacity, any acid added to a water would immediately change its pH.

Why Drink Alkaline Water?

In today's world, our bodies are too acidic and need to alkalize. Drinking alkaline water helps flush acidic toxins from the body, leaving the blood sparkling clean and able to transport critical nutrients to the cells.

Benefits of Staying Well Hydrated

Why all the fuss over drinking lots of water? For starters, our bodies are 2/3 water. Dehydration is a factor in many major health problems.

Side Effects of Dehydration:

- Low energy
- Migraines
- Type II Diabetes
- Hypertension
- Weight gain
- Lower-back pain

Dehydration usually appears as something else e.g. it causes low energy. Low energy causes poor digestion, then is diagnosed as acid reflux and treated with drugs instead of water. Proper hydration is critical to good health and vitality.

Health Advantages of Alkaline Water

There are many health advantages and medical evidence as to the efficacy of drinking water of higher pH (based upon our research, 8.5 pH water is optimal). There is also a lot of information that supports the health benefits of drinking water that contains a slight amount of alkalinity. If you drink 64 ounces of our alkalinity reverse osmosis water daily, this may be equal to 10% of your daily-recommended calcium intake.*

Benefits of Drinking Alkaline Water

- Enhance your immune system and bring your body to a balanced condition
- Help immunity against allergic responses
- Increase clarity of mind, energy & ease depression
- Improve sleep patterns
- Counteract a range of acute & chronic pain symptoms
- Reduce blood pressure, normalize blood sugar & insulin levels
- You may live longer
- Your heart works more efficient
- You may have less chance to develop osteoporosis
- Drinking alkalinity water (to add calcium to your diet) is more effective than drinking milk
